STUDENT SHARING

MALIK, Muhammad Aayan

Pakistan

BEng (Hons) in Mechanical Engineering

One of the things I like most about studying at PolyU is getting to meet other students from different backgrounds and cultures. This has made me more aware of the world around me and reshaped the way I think, feel and act. And it has made me a more confident person.

PolyU encourages overseas placements, and I'm proud I was selected by Canada's famous MITACS research institute to do a special 12-week research internship at the School of Superior Technology in Montreal past summer, and this was an amazing experience.

Tan Jia Xuan

Malaysia

BSc (Hons) in Occupational Therapy

I came across PolyU when I was searching for Asian universities that offer a degree in occupational therapy – there aren't many. In fact, PolyU offers lots of niche courses which other Asian universities do not offer. I'm so glad I made this choice for many other reasons too, including the course itself. Academically it's structured so that the workload is challenging but reasonable, and this allows us to feel comfortable in our studies but also motivated to succeed.

My advice for next year's students is to seize every opportunity you come across. PolyU and Hong Kong offer so many possibilities and you mustn't be afraid to try them!
